

BREAKOUT 2010! Entrepreneur Seminar Slated February 27

Seminar Designed To Help Jobless, Outsourced and Underemployed Discover Empowerment and Business Tools to Launch Their VISION Now!

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. – Countless Americans are losing jobs, taking pay cuts, filing for bankruptcy and feeling the need to do something different with their time and talents. That's why a special one-day seminar designed to help jump-start some of the nation's next big thinkers will make its way to Indianapolis with the hope of igniting a fire in the next wave of entrepreneurs and job creators.

Saturday, February 27th is the time to BREAKOUT! and do something about your finances and your future. Join johngirtonspeaks.com for a special entrepreneur's seminar designed to help today's skilled, yet out-of-work, professionals find their passion and purpose. BREAKOUT 2010! will examine the current state of the economy and share insights to help today's visionaries become tomorrow's successful small business owners. The seminar will be held from 9:00 a.m. till Noon at the Hilton Indianapolis North, 8181 North Shadeland Avenue. Doors open for networking at 8:30 a.m.

According to a Kauffman report, more than half of the companies on the 2009 Fortune 500 list were launched during a recession or bear market, similar to what the nation is experiencing now. Entrepreneurship may be the catalyst for turning around the slumping economy and giving displaced workers not only an opportunity to earn income by putting their skills to work for themselves, but a chance to develop new ideas, products and services filling voids left by corporate downsizing.

BREAKOUT 2010! will provide participants with Very Small Business (VSB) models, ideas, empowerment and information on how to reach their dreams with minimal investment and maximum return. Johngirtonspeaks.com will provide a resource handbook and DVD for each attendee to maximize their potential for success.

“Breakout 2010 encourages attendees to reach inside themselves and discover their passion rather than reaching after someone else to give them passion,” said John E. Girton, Jr., host and motivational speaker. “Attendees will be empowered by the stories of others who were able to start Very Small Businesses and are now fulfilled by the fact that they are earning extra income and better managing their free time while doing something they love to do.”

As part of registration costs, attendees will receive empowerment and motivational material that include lists of the top Very Small Businesses to start, along with insider tips from entrepreneurs and multimedia guru, John Girton, and instant registration to the johngirtonspeaks.com network, which provides ongoing empowerment, support and information for small business owners, as well as videos, podcasts and webinars to start and grow a business.

“Your potential for income could be right under your nose and you've been missing it for decades,” added Girton. I will layout the many online tools that enable sole proprietors, faith-based organizations, contract labor, freelancers and stay-at-home workers the ability to stay organized, get paid, work smart and get things done!”

Early bird registration is $19.95 by January 31, 2010. General admission is $29.95. For more information or to register for the seminar, visit www.johngirtonspeaks.com/breakout or call 317-456-7811.
